

The Wine Museum is located in the Sassi of Matera and is a wonderful cellar totally curved in the rock. Inside is possible to see many original furniture of the winemaking of Matera

Inside you can still feel a peasant world made of simple things, and today, however, it includes the full value of this

Inside there are ancient tools to work as a press, demijohns craft, wooden barrels, jugs, measuring and pouring instruments, but also furniture and photos of the life in the Sassi

All the furnitures are original and induced the visitor to an atmosphere of an ancient time

The museum was founded thanks to the passion of Mr. Anthony Montemurro and his son Michael, who through their kindness provide to show in this museum this vast and great heritage that it represents.
